

MICHAEL GRINDER

March 2015 Tour

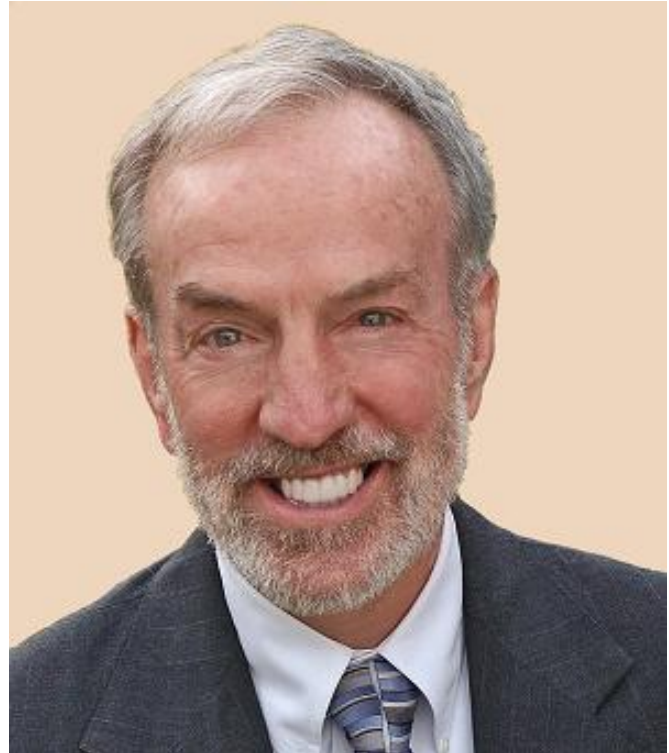

You know an outstanding leader when you see one. They can command a room and respond to challenges while maintaining good relationships. What makes these individuals stand out and what do they do?

At Michael Grinder's 2015 workshop, you will learn some of the skills needed to be an outstanding leader, make better use of your time and accomplish tasks with ease.

Over the 2 days, Michael will teach you how to read the landscape of group dynamics and highlight exactly what patterns to be aware of.

In this interactive program, you will learn how to identify and interpret these patterns to respond effectively and influence your group.

Michael Grinder is a global expert in non-verbal communication who has been a long-time mentor to Margo. He has inspired professionals from around the world to communicate more effectively and improve their performance.
